New Revenue-Raising Law Effective Today, and Financial Confess They Are at Sea as to Its Meaning.

THOUSANDS OF LETTERS ASK FOR INSTRUCTIONS

Collection of Tax Will Strain Resources of Treasury Department, and Many Complications May Arise.

Washington, October 31.—The income tax, the most revolutionary revenue raising power conferred on the American government since its foundation, starts tomorrow upon the public that is to bring millions into the path of the law. Although an income tax has been levied for many years, and its existence was assured by an amendment to the constitution agreed to by the people, the new law is so different from the old that many are at sea as to its meaning. The collection of the tax will strain the resources of the treasury department and will be accompanied, it is not doubted here, with a thousand complications not now foreseen.

Ever since President Wilson signed the tariff bill with its income tax provision early in the present month, the machinery of the treasury department has been at work upon the regulations that are to govern collection of the tax. The task is a most arduous one, and many of the details are still in the air. The treasury department has not yet issued any instructions to the collectors, and many of the details are still in the air. The treasury department has not yet issued any instructions to the collectors, and many of the details are still in the air.

Carnegie Medals Given Georgia Men For Heroic Deeds

Basker Burel, of Dacula, and a Gainesville Negro Saved Lives at the Risk of Their Own.

Pittsburg, Pa., October 31.—(Special.)—Two Georgians are named in the largest list of awards ever made by the Carnegie Hero Fund commission, which was made public after a meeting of the commission here this afternoon. Seventy-seven awards were made. The Georgians are: Basker Burel, 21, of Dacula, and Arthur Lockett, 23, a negro, of Gainesville. Burel saved Adolphus Bowles, 26, from suffocation at Duncans Creek, Ga., on August 8, 1912. Bowles was working in a well 3 feet in diameter and 10 feet deep. The well became filled with carbon-dioxide gas and Bowles was overcome. A crowd was attracted. Three men reared within Burel's hearing, to go into the well. Burel took off his shoes and descended. He crawled to the bottom by means of a rope, cut in the wall of the well. He tied a rope around Bowles and pulled him up to the surface without assistance. Bowles was drawn out of the well and was revived. Burel was awarded a bronze medal and $2,000, as needed, for educational purposes.

Lockett, who is a railroad fireman, risked his life to save that of Claude P. Pendergast, 32, of Jefferson, Ga., on May 6, 1912. The train on which Lockett was working was running twenty miles an hour when the engineer, Lockett, looked out and saw the child on the track 150 feet ahead of the locomotive. The engineer applied the emergency brakes and the engine began to sway. Lockett ran along the running board of the engine. He jumped to the street and then climbed to the train. The engine was less than ten feet from the child, and was running right at him. Lockett jumped to the track and ran to the child. He grabbed the child and pulled him off the track. Lockett was awarded a bronze medal and $2,000, as needed, for educational purposes.

WASHERMAN PROBABLY INSIST ON FAIR ELECTION

Believed the United States Is Planning to Take Active Part in Safeguarding Polls in Mexico.

REBEL FORCES WILL BE ASKED TO TAKE PART

Believed in Mexico City That Huerta Administration Is Facing a Financial Crisis. Small Runs on Banks.

Washington, October 31.—(Retel.)—which has developed the plan of the Washington administration to solve the Mexican problem for the last few days continued everywhere in official circles today.

Whatever is attempted, due consideration of the constitutionalism is an important factor in the situation. It is probable that the government will probably be giving the rebels in many quarters that the cardinal features of the administration's plan will be a comprehensive scheme to bring about a fair and free election. Efforts to be made by the American government to use its good office to secure the participation of the constitutionalists.

In some quarters a suggestion was advanced that the Washington government should make the promise of an official character is made in Mexico as to the result of last Monday's election.

Much interest is manifest in the arrival here tomorrow of Roberto V. Penabaz, nephew of the governor of Sonora, and special messenger from Governor Carranza to the constitutionalist agency here. It is believed he brings the views of the constitutionalists as to what would or would not prove acceptable to them in the way of election arrangements, and they have been requested that the agency here continue efforts to obtain the removal of the embargo on arms.

YOUR MOVE NOW—MR. WILSON!

Mrs. John Lind Tells How She Saved Two Mexican Legislators

Wife of President Wilson's Envoy Sat All Night on Deck While Hunted Men Hid in Cabin.

New York, October 31.—The steamer Morro Castle, which arrived tonight from Vera Cruz with Mrs. John Lind, wife of President Wilson's special envoy, brought also two Mexican legislators who saw their liberty, but lost their lives to her quick wit and generosity.

To save the two Mexicans from arrest at Vera Cruz, Mrs. Lind hid them in her stateroom and sat up all night on the deck until the boat left port. The officers of the Huerta government had gone ashore.

A week ago the cables brought word that the Ward liner Morro Castle had been detained at Vera Cruz while Huerta's agents searched for eight rebellious members of the legislature of the state of Vera Cruz. Until the Morro Castle arrived here tonight only those aboard knew that two of the eight "deputies" had escaped arrest. These men, Adolfo Dominguez and Miguel Vazquez Gomez, who had been in New York until Mexico became a safer home for the opponents of Huerta.

Mrs. Lind said her husband had expected to come home after the Mexican election. Now she did not know when he would come.

Mrs. Lind Tells About It.

"We expect the Morro Castle would sail from Vera Cruz," said Mrs. Lind, "at 4 o'clock the afternoon of October 23. Then Captain Huff was subpoenaed to testify regarding the flight of Dr. Francisco Vazquez Gomez, who had sailed on the Morro Castle five months before. Later we learned that the real reason for our detention was that the government wished to search the ship for eight state legislators from the city of Jalapa. They arrested six of these men, but they didn't find the other three. I'll tell you why.

"While the search was going on the friends of the special envoy in the ship were taking care of them. I was aboard and they came with tears in their eyes begging me to help them. I said I'd do everything for them. I said I'd do everything for them. I said I'd do everything for them.

"I was all they needed. I spent the night on deck and the two men hid in my room, until the detectives gave up the search and went ashore. Then the ship was released and we sailed at 5 o'clock the next morning."

The wife of the special envoy is a housewife little woman with quiet manners and a low voice, but her eyes flashed as she asserted:

"I couldn't bear to think of those men being taken labor and hanged. I just had to do something for them."

LAST JUDGE SAYS OF JURY, DECLARES COST OF APPEALS

Important Decision Handed Down, Following Close 'Up' on Heels of Judge Roan's Decision in Frank Case, in Which He Decided Jurors Were Competent, and Denied New Trial.

Following upon the heels of Judge Roan's decision denying Leo M. Frank a new trial, the court of appeals affirmed an old principle of law yesterday. The effect of the trial judge's decision as to the competency of jurors. Courts of review will not go behind the decision of the trial judge as to whether or not the jury was biased. The case was that of Taylor v. The State, which was tried before Judge E. W. Freeman in Heard county. On the motion for a new trial, the defendant introduced numerous affidavits for the purpose of showing that two of the jurors were prejudiced against the accused. Judge Roan's decision was to deny the motion. He declared, it was said, that he did not see any chance for him. The defendant appealed. The court of appeals affirmed the decision of the trial judge. Each of the attacked jurors denied on oath the statements attributed to him and asserted that he was controlled solely by the evidence delivered by the witnesses.

Judge a Trial.

The court said:

"In passing upon a ground of motion for a new trial in a criminal case based upon the statements of a juror, the court is not to go behind the decision of the trial judge as to whether or not the jury was biased. Prepare for Appeal.

Denied a new trial by Judge L. R. Ransom, the defense of Leo M. Frank is preparing one of the most determined legal battles ever staged in the supreme court of Georgia.

On the other hand, the forces of the Interior General Hugh M. Dorsey, now augmented by Attorney General Tom F. Pender, are equipping themselves to combat the fight planned by Frank's defense.

Mr. Ransom said Friday afternoon: "We will never relinquish our fight. We are convinced of the man's innocence. Justice will finally be done."

Mr. Arnold:

"Never a doubt has existed in our minds that the man deserves a new trial. We are satisfied to let the matter be decided simply on the legal points involved."

Herbert H. Asa, associate in the defense, said:

"As long as there is breath in our bones we will fight. We are confident that the supreme court will grant a new trial."

These were Solicitor Dorsey's words.

"The law is on our side in every case," said Judge Ransom. "I will not let the time to take a new trial be lost. I will not let the time to take a new trial be lost. I will not let the time to take a new trial be lost."

General Agents. All salaries paid by a state, county or municipality, including salaries of public school teachers. The normal tax is not to be withheld until such time as the total payments of annual income exceed $2,000, then the tax is required to be withheld on the amounts of the total payments unless claim for exemption is filed with withholding agent.

"Persons liable for the normal tax of 1 per cent may claim from withholding agent or collector of internal revenue, benefit of a deduction of taxes, interest and other items as provided by law."

"Withholding agent is not required to withhold the normal tax of 1 per cent until on or after November 1 and then only on amounts accruing on and after November 1, 1913, when in excess of $2,000."

Persons subject to the normal tax of 1 per cent, who are unable to pay the normal tax, may, under certain conditions, appoint agents to act for them.

The penalty for failure or fraudulent evasion of the normal tax is a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $1,000, or imprisonment for not more than one year, or both.

BANKERS ARE PUZZLED BY INCOME TAX LAW

New York, October 31.—That part of New York which is referred to vaguely as "Wall street," was in a state of confusion today. For once in its long history, the bankers of the city were puzzled by the new income tax law which was effective tomorrow, and some of the highest-priced lawyers, bankers and corporation officials in the world confessed that they were completely at sea as to its meaning.

At 10 o'clock tonight a group of men emerged from the darkened, cavernous interior of one of the largest banks in the downtown district. They had just concluded the last of a series of lengthy conferences which have been held here ever since the new income tax law was passed.

The subject of all these conferences was the income tax law. "We're swimming in it," said one of the men, "and we don't know what it means. It's a puzzle."

For a day or two, it is thought, the bankers will be coming to know what was meant by the income tax law, but they are not yet convinced that they can handle it. They are not yet convinced that they can handle it.

FOUR-BANK PLAN IS AGREED UPON

Committee Makes Radical Amendment to Administration Bill in Reducing Number of Reserve Banks.

Washington, October 31.—The senate banking and currency committee tonight tentatively agreed upon four regional banks for the proposed reserve system, with provision that after two years the federal reserve board may add as many additional banks as it deems necessary.

The pending bill would reduce the number at twelve, and it has been understood that the administration would not consent to have it reduced below nine.

The sharp reduction in the number of reserve banks was a radical amendment the committee has agreed upon, and it was suggested by the administration supporters in the committee.

Senators Reed and Mitchell, however, voted with the republicans in opposing the amendment.

The proposal was introduced by the administration supporters in the committee.

The committee will have pending the proposal to abandon entirely the administration regional plan.

A government-controlled central bank, there also is pending legislation that the unification of the regional banks be accomplished by the creation of a government clearing house, which would act as a reserve repository.

Open to Public Subscription.

The question of the capitalization of the stock ownership of the proposed regional banks was taken up immediately after the arrangement was tentatively fixed, but no decision was reached.

Chairman (Wm.) after the committee adjourned, expressed the opinion that the bill would be amended to eliminate the administration provision under which banks would be forced to subscribe the capital of the regional banks.

The stock, he said, probably would be thrown open to public subscription. Stockholders would have no voice in the management of the banks, he said, which would be entrusted to a board of directors, to be appointed by the federal reserve board, thus ensuring complete government control of the new system.

The total capitalization of the four regional banks Senator Owen said, probably would amount to $100,000,000.

The administration supporters contested every step in the reduction of the number of regional banks. Two of them voted to increase the number at twelve and three voted for ten banks.

The proposal to increase the number at twelve was defeated, 7 to 5, and by the same vote the number was reduced to ten.

Proposition to insert the proviso that the federal reserve board should increase the number after two years up to twelve was voted down by 10 to 1.

Only two members opposing it.

The committee hopes to settle the ownership and control of the regional banks tomorrow and it is expected that with this matter disposed of the serious questions in dispute will be speedily adjusted.

Tomorrow the committee will recess to allow various members to go to their homes for the election consideration of the bill going over until Wednesday.

President Wilson, it became known tonight, looks with disfavor on the action of the committee today. He believes there should be at least ten regional reserve banks and he has been assured by administration supporters in the committee that today's series of votes was only of a tentative character, designed chiefly to sound out the attitude of the members toward fundamental features of the bill.

The president was informed that there probably would be a reconsideration of the whole subject at subsequent meetings of the committee. It is thought that eventually the number of reserve banks may be fixed with discretion given to the federal reserve board to increase the number to ten or twelve within a certain period.

Such an arrangement, it is believed, would prove acceptable to the administration.

ALLEGED "DIPS" PUT THROUGH THIRD DEGREE

Chief Newport Lanford Anxious to Capture Reported Woman Accomplice.

Chief of Detectives Newport Lanford captured the three alleged pickpockets last night through the "third degree" last night in an effort to have them reveal the identity of their woman accomplice, who is believed to have operated with them in this and other cities.

The three alleged "dips" were taken into custody by detectives on the accusation of D. B. Gilbert, a fire insurance man, who testified that they were the same men who had robbed him of $100 in Mexico last week.

The third degree, however, proved a failure, although the alleged "dips" were confronted with George J. Smith, who identified a diamond ring found in the pocket of one of the men as his property. The men deny the theft, and refused to give any information which might lead to the capture of their alleged woman accomplice, whom the police have been robbing many prominent Atlanta women.

The men held by the detectives gave their names as W. M. Rayner, 43 years old of Birmingham; J. E. Barnard, 36 of Knoxville, and H. E. Barnard, 34 of Louisville.

Found on all three men the detectives are convinced that they have a woman confederate who came with them to this vicinity.

Albert Stanley, who declares that he is a bell boy formerly employed by a hotel in Rochester, N. Y., was arrested in the north yards of the Southern railway on suspicion of being the man who made the escape when the three were captured. Stanley stoutly denied that he had any connection with the men under arrest, and at headquarters were confronted by their declared thief that he had never seen any of the trio before.

The alleged "dip" will be arraigned before Recorder Naah R. Broyles in police court this afternoon.

IVY STREET CITIZENS ASK $10,600 REFUND

But Members of Street Committee Want All the Damage Claims Settled First.

A demand for the refund of a surplus of $10,600 which the city holds to the credit of the Ivy street paving and grading project, was made by property holders through Joel Hurt, at a meeting of the street committee, yesterday afternoon.

The attitude of the committee is that no part of the $10,600 which was deposited with the city for improving Ivy street should be refunded until after the construction department reports the work complete as an engineering proposition, and not until after all claims for damages have been adjusted.

The committee asked Chief of Construction Chief Clayton to make a report just as soon as possible.

When the property owners of Ivy street learned that the improvement cost them $10,600, they were angry.

Some people ought to wear swivel glasses for fear they might have to look on the largest side of life.

C. W. SMITH HEADS MARKET COMMISSION

Report Will Be Made to Council After Conditions in Other Cities Are Investigated.

The market commission, consisting of three members from the chamber of commerce and the same number from the city council, which was recently appointed to investigate the public markets throughout the United States and report on the feasibility of such a market for Atlanta, affected officers at a meeting yesterday morning in the city hall, and has begun its work in earnest.

Councilman Charles W. Smith was elected president of the commission, and Francis E. Kampen, of the chamber of commerce, was elected secretary.

In its report to council, which will be made as soon as the investigation can be made, the commission will present complete plans for the operation of the market, in case it is found that the market can be operated to advantage.

The following men comprise the commission. From council, Charles W. Smith, C. D. Knight and J. H. Harwell, from the chamber of commerce, amount about $15,000 has been expended in putting forth the request of the property owners for the refund of the surplus fund. Mr. Hurt called attention to the fact that since 1910 Ivy street property assessments have so greatly increased as to net the city an excess tax revenue of $15,150 for the three years.

The city has received, in the course of those three years more than enough to cover the cost to the city of the grading and repaving of the street," he told the committee.

Ex-Councilman Harvey Hatcher, who was chairman of the street committee when the Ivy street improvement was passed up in council, argued against the right of the city to use any part of the excess fund of $15,000 for paying claims for damages. He said that it was his understanding at the time the work was passed up and the money deposited that the city would return any sum in excess of the actual cost of the paving and grading.

Members of the street committee who were in council last year disposed the contention each taking the position that the money was turned over by the property owners to the city without condition.

City Attorney James L. Mayron says that he is of the opinion that the city can use any part of the $10,600 surplus fund to pay damages.

Mayor Woodward takes the position that the city can use the money to pay damages to property owners.

LA FOLLETTE BANQUET HAS BEEN CALLED OFF

Invitations to the banquet planned by the Young Men's Democratic League, to be given in honor of Senator La Follette next Wednesday evening, have been recalled, the senator having advised the league that he had been forbidden to attend the banquet by his physician on account of a slight throat trouble. The funds collected to defray the expenses of the banquet will be returned at once to those who contributed.

The cancellation of the date does not alter the plans for the series of Yeoman lectures which the senator had planned to deliver.

At the Capitol View Methodist church, last Sunday evening at 8 o'clock, Pastor C. H. Barnes will conduct a musical service in connection with the regular service.

Quite an elaborate program has been arranged, and the pastor, who has been in the city for some time, has been extended an invitation to attend the service.

The following men comprise the commission. From council, Charles W. Smith, C. D. Knight and J. H. Harwell, from the chamber of commerce, amount about $15,000 has been expended in putting forth the request of the property owners for the refund of the surplus fund. Mr. Hurt called attention to the fact that since 1910 Ivy street property assessments have so greatly increased as to net the city an excess tax revenue of $15,150 for the three years.

The city has received, in the course of those three years more than enough to cover the cost to the city of the grading and repaving of the street," he told the committee.

Ex-Councilman Harvey Hatcher, who was chairman of the street committee when the Ivy street improvement was passed up in council, argued against the right of the city to use any part of the excess fund of $15,000 for paying claims for damages. He said that it was his understanding at the time the work was passed up and the money deposited that the city would return any sum in excess of the actual cost of the paving and grading.

Members of the street committee who were in council last year disposed the contention each taking the position that the money was turned over by the property owners to the city without condition.

City Attorney James L. Mayron says that he is of the opinion that the city can use any part of the $10,600 surplus fund to pay damages.

Mayor Woodward takes the position that the city can use the money to pay damages to property owners.
